1. Early in February 1952, three transports arrived in Wolfen with specialists from Plant # 1 in Podbereshe-Ivankovo. These trains brought back more than 100 specialists who had formerly been connected with the Junkers firm in Germany. It is reported that only a few top specialists remain at Plant # 1 in Podbereshe-Ivankovo.
2. On 23 December 1951, a transport arrived in Wolfen carrying German specialists from Plant # 2 in Upravlencheski Gorodok. This transport carried 170 persons, including dependents of workers. None of these repatriates are top scientists. For the most part, they held positions of secondary importance in Russia and worked as assemblers and technicians. Their present whereabouts is unknown.
3. On 26 January 1952, specialists who had been deported to Russia from the Zeiss firm in Jena arrived in Wolfen. On 30 January, another train arrived in Wolfen but the details on this transport are not known. It is reported that approximately 300 former Zeiss workers, including their families, have been repatriated.

Comment: It is not yet clear whether the above count (paragraph 3) covers only the train which arrived on 26 January or both trains.
